

Introducing our DI markets....

Disability Income Protection

You probably consider your home to be your most important asset. While it may have been the largest single purchase you will ever make, there is another asset that is far more important - your ability to earn an income. If an injury or sickness took away that ability, income would be lost and financial devastation would be eminent, unless you have disability income protection from Illinois Mutual.

Our disability income products are designed to protect individuals, families and companies from financial loss due to an accident or illness.

By pioneering ways to make income protection easy to understand, simple to purchase and available to a broad group of people, we're making sure more hard-working Americans get the protection they need.

Our commitment to providing working individuals with quality products and service sets Illinois Mutual apart from the competition.
